

No More Boring Training!

Become an Engaging Facilitator

Let's face it. Most of us didn't go to school to learn how to train. We were placed in a training position because we knew a lot about a particular area of work. We were a Subject Matter Expert who fell into training. Training, however, requires special skills to make it effective for others. As trainers, we need to refresh and refine those skills periodically. Whether you're an experienced trainer or you're just starting out, this full day session will help you grow as an engaging facilitator. Here's what you'll learn to make a significant impact on the training you design, develop and deliver. How to:

- ◆ Choose the best mode of training delivery.
- ◆ Make and keep topics relevant and fresh.
- ◆ Create visual aids that are memorable.
- ◆ Design interactive exercises that yield results.
- ◆ Generate discussions that matter.
- ◆ Use openers, closers, energizers, and icebreakers effectively.
- ◆ Meet the objectives of training for positive outcomes.
- ◆ Manage time and the environment for accelerated learning.

Training can be devalued when participants don't perceive benefits for the time investment they sacrifice to attend. Make your training engaging and effective by learning dynamic methods, processes and practices for the classroom. ATD and SHRM members receive a special rate. Join us!
